! HYPERSPACE ANOMALY

Our fleet has arrived at the hyperspace anomaly HSA 31!

Archimandrite, there is indeed a pocket of real space-time trapped within this anomaly in hyperspace -- scanners are responding nominally. There is a mass here after all, situated at the center of the space-time bubble... it is the size of a small planetoid... these readings are quite unexpected. The object is giving off an unusual energy signature... it is almost as if it is interacting with the surrounding hyperspace curvature in a manner that is not entirely clear at the moment... could it be that the object is generating this bubble itself?

We are not alone here! Detecting multiple vessels on an intercept vector! We are under attack!

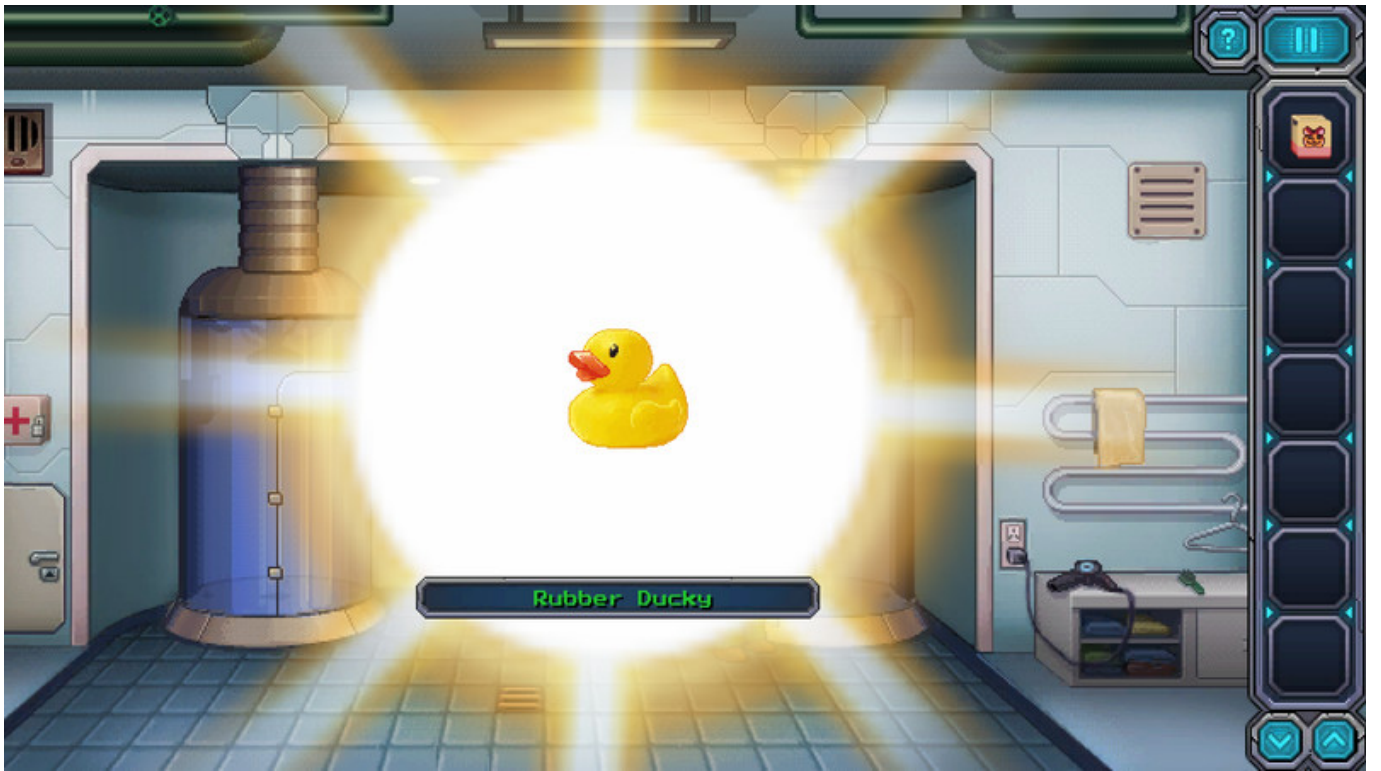

! What?! Here?
